

A close-up photograph of a green praying mantis on a person's hand. The mantis is positioned on the back of the hand, with its long, spindly legs spread out. Its head is turned towards the left. In the foreground, a person's index finger is extended, and a small, brown fly is perched on the tip of the finger. The background consists of a yellow and blue fabric, possibly a shirt or a bag. The overall scene is brightly lit, highlighting the textures of the skin, the fabric, and the insects.

“Preying Mantis”

“The lions roar for their prey
and seek their food from God.”

(Psalm 104:21)